JEB DUNNUCK

"Meaty and full of sweet baking spice and minerally iron, it's a full-bodied, elegant wine of dense black fruit and fierce, melting tannins."

"The 2022 Saggi is darkly furled in the glass, showing hints of dried black cherries, savory herbs and ashen stone. It is round in feel with a core of ripe red berry fruits and crisp mineral tones propelled by brisk acidity. It tapers off long yet fresh and gently tannic, leaving a tart raspberry resonance to fade."

"A firm and structured red with a deep core of succulent fruit, wrapped with velvety tannins, this offers ripe mulberries and blackberries, together with spices, toasted cedar and iodine.

Long finish."

"It is a burly, full-bodied beast that clocks in at 15.4% ABV, with aromas and flavors of Amarena cherries soaking in brandy, dark chocolate, clove, and pastrami on rye bread. Robust tannins outpace the wine's gentle acidity, with a mouthfeel that feels big and rich.
